

Taking of Blood Alcohol Levels in the Emergency Department

Blood alcohol levels should be drawn on emergency patients if clinically relevant for patient care. The taking of blood samples for blood alcohol levels for medicolegal reasons should be done in accordance with applicable provincial laws.